

FACULTY

NYANN BIERY

PROGRAM EVALUATION MANAGER

Nyann received her Master's of Science degree in Epidemiology from UC Davis. During her time in California, she worked for the Department of Health Services in the Office of AIDS, Prevention Research and Evaluation and was a teaching assistant at the University of California, Davis. Nyann currently resides in northern New Jersey with her husband and two children. Her work within the department includes assisting residents and faculty with their individual research endeavors, collaboration among the different departments of the hospital and local community based organizations, and network initiatives such as the Patient Centered Medical Home.

HOLLY L. BINNIG, MD

FACULTY ASSOCIATE/PHYSICIAN AT BETHLEHEM MEDICAL CENTER

Dr. Binnig received a bachelor's degree in economics from Wittenberg University. She completed her doctorate of medicine in 1999 from the MCP Hahnemann School of Medicine. Dr. Binnig is an alumnus from the Lehigh Valley Hospital Family Medicine Residency Program. After graduation, she did additional training in obstetrics at the University of Southern California Family Medicine Residency Program at California Hospital. Her special interests include women's health and health care finance. In her spare time, she enjoys cross-stitching, sewing, and quilting. She also likes the outdoors and is an avid sports fan.

JONATHAN BURKE, D.O.

OSTEOPATHIC PROGRAM DIRECTOR/PHYSICIAN AT PLEASANT VALLEY FAMILY PRACTICE

Dr. Burke grew up in New Jersey and earned his undergraduate degree in biology at Rutgers University. He then moved to Pennsylvania and attended the Philadelphia College of Osteopathic Medicine, graduating in 2000. Dr. Burke is an alumnus of the Lehigh Valley Hospital Family Medicine Residency Program. After training, Dr. Burke stayed in the Lehigh Valley and joined the Lehigh Valley Physician Group (LVPG) performing both clinical and leadership duties. He spent 5 years as the Assistant Medical Director of the family medicine division of LVPG. His practice is Pleasant Valley Family practice in Brodheads ville. Dr. Burke is married and has 2 great children. He enjoys time with them and restoring his 1966 Mustang.

BETH CAREYVA, MD

FACULTY ASSOCIATE/PHYSICIAN AT BETHLEHEM MEDICAL CENTER

Dr. Careyva recently joined the faculty after completing residency at Thomas Jefferson University. Prior to this, she attended Lehigh University, majoring in biochemistry, and then matriculated to Jefferson Medical College. During residency, she served as chief resident and co-founder of the resident research interest group. She was the recipient of the Chimichanga award for intern enthusiasm, the Society of Teachers of Family Medicine resident teaching award, and is a member of the Alpha Omega Alpha Honor Medical Society. Her faculty interests include research, particularly focused on obesity and diabetes, in addition to incorporating group visits into the patient centered medical home. Dr. Careyva migrated back to the Lehigh Valley to be closer to her family. Her hobbies include cooking, hosting dinner parties, distance running, and caring for her pet turtle Frank.

JOANNE L. COHEN-KATZ, Ph.D.

FACULTY ASSOCIATE/FAMILY SYSTEMS ASSOCIATE

Dr. Cohen-Katz is a licensed psychologist who has been teaching behavioral science to family medicine residents since 1992. She graduated from the University of Pennsylvania with honors and received her doctorate in counseling psychology from the University of Florida, where she specialized in health psychology and family therapy. Dr. Cohen-Katz was the director of behavioral sciences in the family practice residency at the University of Massachusetts Medical Center for three years, before becoming a founding member of the Lehigh Valley Hospital Department of Family Medicine in 1996. Since 2001, Dr. Cohen-Katz has co-directed the Lehigh Valley Hospital Center for Mindfulness, which teaches mindfulness meditation-based interventions to residents, hospital employees, and patients in the community. Her special interests include increasing physician wellness and self-awareness by teaching mindfulness techniques, collaborative/biopsychosocial approaches to healthcare and training physicians to incorporate family systems concepts into everyday clinical encounters. Her personal interests include hiking and the outdoors, and she is a long-time practitioner of yoga and meditation. Her greatest joys come from spending time with her husband and their children, Benjamin and Deborah.

JULIE A. DOSTAL, MD

VICE CHAIR / RESIDENCY PROGRAM DIRECTOR

Dr. Dostal graduated from Macalester College in St. Paul, Minnesota in 1975 with a bachelor's degree in chemistry. After two years of doing research in the Pediatric Nephrology Department at the University of Minnesota, she entered the University of Minnesota Medical School, graduating in 1981. After finishing her Family Medicine Residency in Kingston, PA in 1984, she joined the full-time faculty at Wyoming Valley Family Medicine Residency. She completed the Michigan State Faculty Development Fellowship Program in 1985 and was Program Director at the Wyoming Valley program from 1989 to 1998. In her time at Wyoming Valley she maintained an active practice for more than 17 years, including delivering over a thousand babies. Dr. Dostal joined Lehigh Valley Hospital in 1998. She has been the Vice Chair of the Department since 1999 and Program Director of the Residency since the fall of 2006. She has been a leader in the community in promoting the health and well-being of women and their families. She is the past president of the board of directors of Turning Point of Lehigh Valley (the local domestic violence service agency) and previously served on the board of directors of Northeastern Pennsylvania Planned Parenthood. Dr. Dostal is a past president of the Association of Family Medicine Residency Directors and was formerly a member of the STFM Legislative committee. She keeps her sanity with a regular yoga and meditation practice, reading, and traveling to the Outer Banks of North Carolina with her family. Her husband has recently started his career as a teacher of 7th grade now that their three children are out of the nest and creating their futures.

BRUCE A. ELLSWEIG, M.D.

CLINICAL ASSOCIATE PROFESSOR OF FAMILY MEDICINE, HERSHEY MEDICAL COLLEGE, MEDICAL DIRECTOR, LEHIGH VALLEY HOSPICE, VICE CHAIRMAN FAMILY MEDICINE FOR COMMUNITY PRACTICE

I was born and raised in East Stroudsburg, PA. My fascination with medicine began at a very early age and was stimulated throughout my education process by outstanding models of quality, caring and sensitivity by my own family physician. I was a charter member of our family medicine group in medical school and actively participated in the educational process during and after residency. I maintain an active role as a community preceptor for family medicine program. I helped write, produce and act in video productions dealing with depression in the elderly and various clinical segments revolving around chronic disease. My community involvement includes several volunteer organizations. My wife and soul mate of 22 years is a practicing attorney in Allentown, PA. Current teaching and research interests: I have been active in the family residency program since its inception and have enjoyed having both students and residents shadow me in my office for thirty years. My role as IPA Chairman has afforded me the opportunity to become educated and to educate others in the ever-changing environment of managed care, quality and performance based initiatives, and to help ensure the security of our goals as physician members.

ARNOLD GOLDBERG, MD

FACULTY ASSOCIATE/PHYSICIAN AT LEHIGH VALLEY FAMILY HEALTH CENTER

Arnold Goldberg MD joined the department in September of 2011. He graduated from Rush Medical College in 1981 as is a member of the Medical Honor Society. He completed his residency in Family Medicine at St. Joseph Hospital/Northwestern University in 1984 and was the chief resident. He has practiced in private practice in Connecticut and Massachusetts and taught at Boston University and Tufts Medical School. Then in 1994 he joined the Department of Family Medicine at Brown University where he practiced and taught for 18 years as the Director of the Family Practice Center. In that department he did medical care research, administration, education of residents, staff and students, and clinical work. Dr Goldberg was the president of the Rhode Island Academy of Family Practice for two years and is a member of the Society of Teachers of Family Medicine, Pennsylvania Academy of Family Medicine, the American Balint Society, and the AAFP. His special interests are in diabetes care, the patient centered medical home, behavioral medicine, the chronic care model, group medical visits, balint groups and clinical medicine. He has been married for 31 years to a fantastic woman and has three wonderful children, a beautiful granddaughter, a delightful son-in-law, and three curious cats.

BARBARA GOUZOUASIS

FACULTY ASSOCIATE/DEPARTMENT ADMINISTRATOR

Barb received her BA in Business Management and German Language from Franklin and Marshall College in Lancaster, PA. While working for the University of Pennsylvania healthcare system, she earned her MBA from Drexel University. Barb's 30+ working years have included work in grant management, hospital finance, insurance carrier operations, practice management (both independent and hospital-owned practices), central department administration, physician billing and contracting, and business development. Barb joined LVHN in 1997, where she worked in LVPG Finance until she joined the Department of Family Medicine in 2009. Barb is always happy to talk about her family, which includes her husband, two daughters, and numerous dogs, who all reside in Chalfont, PA.

SWEETY JAIN, MDFACULTY ASSOCIATE/PHYSICIAN AT LEHIGH VALLEY FAMILY HEALTH CENTER

Dr. Sweety Jain joined Lehigh Valley Family Medicine faculty in September 2006. She received her medical degree from Calcutta Medical College, India and went on to pursue a fellowship in Obstetrics and Gynecology. She completed her residency in Family Medicine at Sacred Heart Hospital in Allentown, PA and worked at Lehigh University Health Center for two years. Thereafter, she served as a faculty member at Sacred Heart Family Medicine Residency for almost ten years. She has been actively involved in motivating residents to participate in research projects and to present at various conferences. Dr. Jain's special interests include gynecologic procedures, preventative medicine and practice based research. She serves on the advisory council of the PAFP Medical Home Project for care of patients with disabilities. In this context, she has served on the expert workgroup committee for the Maternal and Child Health Division of the Department of Health and Human Services in Washington, D.C. and on an Objective Review Committee (ORC) of grant applications for HRSA. Her hobbies include traveling, gardening, and writing. She lives in Bethlehem with her husband, Himanshu, a Professor of Materials Engineering at Lehigh University and their two daughters, Isha and Raina.

ASHWINI KAMATH MULKI, MDFACULTY ASSOCIATE/PHYSICIAN AT LEHIGH VALLEY FAMILY HEALTH CENTER

Ashwini is from Bangalore, the 'garden city', now a booming IT city in southern India. She went to medical school at M S Ramaiah Medical College and after marriage followed her husband to the USA. After a brief stay around the lovely Rocky Mountains in Colorado, she moved to Lancaster, PA for residency with Lancaster General Hospital Family Medicine Residency program. Her area of interest was Global health and she pursued this with rotations at Malawi and Guatemala, while continuing to lead the refugee clinic in Lancaster. Her interest and love for teaching brought her to Lehigh Valley Family Medicine Program. Prenatal care, women's health and newborn care are her areas of focus currently. Outside work, Ashwini enjoys reading non medical books, gardening, jogging, yoga, painting with water colors, singing, and hiking in the Poconos with her husband, Aravind.

ERIC KANE, D.O.PHYSICIAN AT LEHIGH VALLEY FAMILY PRACTICE ASSOCIATES

Dr. Eric Kane is a native of the Lehigh Valley. His education includes Lehigh University and PCOM for his medical education. His internship and residency were spent at what is now St. Luke's Allentown Campus. He has been a partner at LVFPA for the past 25 years. He enjoys traveling with his wife, Sherol, and trying to keep up with their four children.

DREW M. KEISTER, MD

FACULTY ASSOCIATE/PHYSICIAN AT LEHIGH VALLEY FAMILY PRACTICE ASSOCIATES

Drew Keister is a Lehigh Valley native who returned home to join the LVHN Family Medicine Department in 2008. After graduating from Emmaus High School, he went to Cornell University, double majoring in chemistry and neurobiology. He then accepted a military scholarship to attend Penn State College of Medicine in Hershey, the sweetest place on Earth. While in Hershey, he met his lovely wife Mary, who now practices as a family physician in the region. Together, they went to Andrews Air Force Base for their residency. Drew was fortunate to be asked to join the faculty at Offutt Air Force Base's family medicine residency (in Omaha, Nebraska) upon completion of his training. While there, he attended the University of North Carolina Faculty Development Fellowship, a part time program that works with family medicine faculty to improve resident and student education (isn't it interesting that you need a Masters in Education to teach elementary school, but no educational training to teach doctors?). He then worked to implement a resident-driven evidence-based medicine curriculum at the Offutt residency. Drew joined LVHN's faculty in August 2008. He lives in Fogelsville with Mary and their two young kids, Rowen and Alina. When he manages a few hours away from work and family, he enjoys disc golf, historical fencing and strategy board games.

ABBY S. LETCHER, MD

FACULTY ASSOCIATE / MEDICAL DIRECTOR OF NEIGHBORHOOD HEALTH CENTERS OF THE LEHIGH VALLEY

Abby joined the LVHN family in 2003 inspired by Relationship Centered Care and the Tools of Turtlecraft that here we could create community health care that makes a difference. Abby has always believed in the power of stories to change lives, and in medicine, our stories are the source of healing. Abby earned her bachelor's degree in English and African studies from Yale University. During medical school at the University Of Pennsylvania School Of Medicine, she focused on community health where she learned powerful life lessons about healing environments from community activists and role models in the Bridging the Gaps program way back in 1991. She stayed in Philadelphia to complete the Family Medicine Residency Program at Thomas Jefferson University Hospital, then moved to New York for love and joined an urban Family Medicine program with a practice in Bedford Stuyvesant. She uprooted again with her husband Andy and baby Anna in 2001 to Michigan to the Robert Wood Johnson Clinical Scholars Program to learn about Community Based Participatory Action Research in Flint and Detroit. Since coming to the Lehigh Valley, she has had the honor to help create the Lehigh Valley's first Community Health Center, The Neighborhood Health Centers of the Lehigh Valley(NHCLV). She is a member of the Community Exchange, Lehigh Valley's Time Bank, and is deeply passionate about building strong, healthy communities. Most recently she led NHCLV's partnership with Congregations United for Neighborhood Action, the Community Exchange and the Parish Nursing Coalition to implement Jeff Brenner's HotSpotter model from the Camden Coalition of Healthcare Providers. They will be coordinating care for the most vulnerable, high utilizing patients where they are and when they need it, pulling together data about health care in the community, gathering stories, organizing to develop a community definition of what value in health care looks like, and building a new system to help neighbors care for each other. Let the fun begin!

JAMES MANLEY, D.O.

PHYSICIAN AT LEHIGH VALLEY FAMILY PRACTICE ASSOCIATES

Dr. Manley was born and raised in Allentown, PA. After graduating from William Allen High School he attended and graduated from the Pennsylvania State University. Prior to going to medical school he worked at Lehigh Valley Hospital in the respiratory therapy department. This provided invaluable clinical experience for his future in medicine. After graduating from the Philadelphia College of Osteopathic Medicine he spent his internship and family medicine residency at the Allentown Osteopathic Medical Center. Along with fellow resident, Dr. Eric D. Kane, they opened the doors to family medicine. Nearly 25 years and 11,000 patients later they continue to practice family medicine in Bethlehem, PA. They are actively involved in the Lehigh Valley Health Network's family medicine residency program as one of their continuity care sites. Outside of the office he is one of the school physicians for the Bethlehem Area School District. In addition to the practice of medicine he is and has been involved with the Greater Lehigh Valley Independent Practice Association, initially as a board member currently as chairman. He is also on the Board of the Lehigh Valley Physician Hospital Organization and serves as vice-chairman. But, the most important aspect in his life continues to be his wife Anne, and their two children Alexandra and James.

JEFFREY S. MATHIEU, M.D.

FACULTY ASSOCIATE/MEDICAL DIRECTOR AT LEHIGH VALLEY FAMILY HEALTH CENTER

Dr. Mathieu returned to the Lehigh Valley in 2004 after a five-year immersion in full scope rural family medicine in Honesdale, PA. He is a graduate from Lehigh Valley Hospital Family Medicine Residency. He graduated from Tufts University with a bachelor's of science degree in chemistry and biology and completed his medical degree at the University of Connecticut. Currently, he is investing a great deal of energy help to transform the Lehigh Valley Family Health Center into a Patient Centered Medical Home. He also serves as chair of department quality assurance and helps represent the Family Medicine Department in improving EHR utilization. He is always happy to talk about his travels to such places as Sri Lanka, Guyana, and Antarctica. His enjoys his time as a Cub Scout Leader as well as downhill skiing, reading, lounging in his hot tub and spending time with his two children, Paige and Aidan, and his wife Susan.

SUSAN S. MATHIEU, M.D.

FACULTY ASSOCIATE/PHYSICIAN AT LEHIGH VALLEY FAMILY HEALTH CENTER

Dr. Mathieu is a graduate of the Lehigh Valley Hospital Family Medicine Residency Program in 1999. She grew up in nearby Salisbury Township. She earned her bachelor's of science degree from Muhlenberg College and her medical degree from the Medical College of Pennsylvania. After graduating from residency, she and her husband, Jeff, spent 5 years in a rural private practice in Honesdale, PA where she practiced a full scope of family practice care including obstetrics, pediatrics, and inpatient/ICU care. Her clinical interests focus on building relationships through behavioral health, women's care and pediatrics. She is currently the lead physician on the wellness curriculum. When she is not at work, she is usually found actively involved in her second job as a mother to Paige and Aidan.

WILLIAM L. MILLER, M.D., M.A.

CHAIR OF FAMILY MEDICINE/PHYSICIAN AT LEHIGH VALLEY FAMILY HEALTH CENTER

Dr. Miller graduated from Wake Forest University with honors, earned a master's degree in medical anthropology, and received his medical degree from the University of North Carolina School of Medicine 1977. He then completed a Family Medicine Residency at Harrisburg Hospital where he served as co-chief resident. Dr. Miller entered private practice in Bethlehem, PA for four years before joining the Family Medicine faculty at the University of Connecticut where he served as Director of Pre-doctoral Education, Residency Director, and Director of Fellowship Programs. He returned to Pennsylvania and the Lehigh Valley in 1994 to help establish the innovative Lehigh Valley Family Medicine Residency Program and a new Department of Family Medicine at Lehigh Valley Health Network. His research activities include over 17 years of observing, implementing, and evaluating NIH-funded national primary care practice improvement efforts along with investigations of healing relationships and the clinical encounter, collaborative care, and professional socialization. He is one of the pioneers of qualitative and mixed method research approaches in primary care and was founding Consulting Editor for the Annals of Family Medicine. He was an advisor and evaluator for the American Academy of Family Physicians' Future of Family Medicine National Demonstration Project of the patient-centered medical home and the American Board of Family Medicine-funded national family medicine residency redesign initiative. His special joys are family, backpacking, cross-country skiing, and music.

ROBERT MOTLEY, MD

FACULTY ASSOCIATE/VICE CHAIR OF NETWORK COLLABORATION/PHYSICIAN AT LEHIGH VALLEY FAMILY HEALTH CENTER

Dr. Motley joined our Department of Family Medicine in 2006 after almost twenty years in private community practice. In addition to caring for patients, Bob precepted medical students and led a variety of projects with other physicians and members of the community. From 2001 to 2004, he served as Chairman of his 34 clinician primary care group. Within the residency, Dr. Motley helps coordinate the chronic care and ethics portions of the curriculum and also has interests in community health and NaPro Technology. He has been honored three times as Teacher of the Year by our residents. He currently serves as Vice Chair of Network Collaboration for our Department and is also President of the Medical Staff. Bob and his wife Jeanne-Marie enjoy music, biking, kayaking and taking walks together. Their five children and two grandchildren remain the joy of their lives. Four of their children work in the health professions. Dr. Motley graduated from LaSalle University and Jefferson Medical College in Philadelphia, PA. He remained at Jefferson to complete his Family Medicine residency program. He is a Diplomate of the American Board of Family Medicine and holds a Certificate of Added Qualification in Geriatric Medicine.

KRISTIN C. REIHMAN, M.D.

FACULTY ASSOCIATE/PHYSICIAN AT NEIGHBORHOOD HEALTH CENTERS OF THE LEHIGH VALLEY

Kristin is one of seven children and hails from Fresno, California. She attended Yale University where she majored in American Studies and swam on the varsity swim team. Upon graduation in 1992, Kristin traveled to China, where she taught English, discovered great cuisine, travelled extensively and learned to sing several popular songs in Mandarin. She completed post-baccalaureate studies at the University of Texas at Austin and completed her medical degree at Stanford. Kristin completed her residency at LVH over the course of five years as part of a job-share pair. She joined the faculty in 2009. She is married to Greg Reihman, philosopher and fabulous father to their four children: Mahlon, Baxter, Tula, and Xavier. Her passions include community gardening, group visits, medical acupuncture, mentoring young healers, sustainability, Lyme disease, innovative juicing, and relationship-centered-everything.

ROBIN SCHROEDER, M.D.

FACULTY ASSOCIATE/VICE CHAIR OF PRACTICE AND PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT

Dr. Schroeder was one of those people who knew from a very early age (age 7) that she wanted to be a physician. She did not have family members in medicine, so she believes that it was the positive influence of her family doctor that led her down this path. Dr. Schroeder spent almost 16 years at UMDNJ-New Jersey Medical School in Newark, NJ prior to joining Family Medicine at LVHN in 2012. She had many roles at NJMS, including Medical Director of Student Health Services, Associate Dean for Student Affairs, Family Medicine clerkship director, and Interim Chair of the Department of Family Medicine. She is passionate about medical education. In her new role as Vice Chair, Practice and Professional Development, she will be spending her time with the USF Select program, and LVPG and practice development. Over the past few years, Dr. Schroeder has been pursuing board recognition in Obesity Medicine and will spend her clinical time with Bariatric Medicine. Areas of interest in medical education include quality improvement, empathy, and burnout. She has recently relocated to the Lehigh Valley and is enjoying antiques to furnish her late 1700's log home. She is taking advantage of the many outdoor and cultural events available in the valley.

BRIAN STELLO, MD

FACULTY ASSOCIATE/PHYSICIAN AT LEHIGH VALLEY FAMILY HEALTH CENTER

Dr. Stello is a founding faculty member of the residency at Lehigh Valley. He was the first director of the Lehigh Valley Family Health Center, supervising the practice as it grew from a 700-square-foot suite to a three-story health center. In his faculty role, he received a number of teaching and presentation awards. From 1999-2006, he served as Director of Network Development in the Department of Family Medicine, where his work included recruiting new physicians to the network and matching residency program graduates with local practice opportunities. Since 2006, he has been Director of EPICnet, the department's practice-based research network. Under Dr. Stello's leadership, EPICnet has been a recipient of or participant in research grants awarded by the Agency for Healthcare Research and Quality, and the American Academy of Family Physicians. He continues to participate in hospital-network quality improvement activities.

JEFFREY L. STERNLIEB, PhD

FACULTY ASSOCIATE/FAMILY SYSTEMS ASSOCIATE

Dr. Sternlieb is a licensed psychologist who has taught psychology at the college level and has had a clinical psychology practice that included psychological evaluations and psychotherapy with children, adolescents, and families. Most recently, he has his own consultative business working with people in a wide range of businesses and organizations. This includes developing and conducting programs on leadership development, stress, change and conflict management, and prevention of violence, sexual harassment, and discrimination. He received his bachelor's degree from Amherst College and doctorate in developmental psychology from The Catholic University of America. He completed a child clinical internship at the Pittsburgh Child Guidance Center and had additional training in family therapy at the Ackerman Institute in New York City. Dr. Sternlieb is a member of the governing council of the American Balint Society, and he has written about physician self-awareness and self-care. In addition to spending time with his family, he enjoys playing tennis and racquetball, perennial, herb, and vegetable gardening, cooking and eco-travel to places such as The Grand Canyon, the Amazon, and the Pantanal.

MARY STOCK KEISTER, M.D.

FACULTY ASSOCIATE/PHYSICIAN AT BETHLEHEM MEDICAL CENTER

Mary Stock Keister, MD is a Gettysburg, PA native who moved to the Lehigh Valley in 2008. She received a Bachelor's degree in Biology from the University of Rochester and her medical degree from Penn State University College of Medicine in Hershey. She is a veteran of the U.S. Air Force, completing her Family Medicine residency at Andrews Air Force Base in Maryland and serving for several years at Offutt Air Force Base in Nebraska. Her medical interests include adolescent health, women's health, family dynamics and health policy. When she is not working, she enjoys spending time with her husband and two elementary-age daughters, gardening, and visiting local fairs, fests and carnivals.

CRYSTAL WALKER

RESIDENCY PROGRAM MANAGER

Crystal was born and raised in Allentown, PA and after graduating from Emmaus High School she attended and graduated from Allentown Business School where she received her Associates Degree in Medical Office Assisting. She started working with the Department of Family Medicine in 1999 as a Medical Secretary at the front desk of the Lehigh Valley Family Health Center and climbed her way up the ladder in various positions in the department and is now happily fulfilling the role of Residency Program Manager. Her hobbies include gardening, cooking, baking, travelling to Disney and spending time with her husband Keith and their two beautiful daughters, Mara and Evie.

HEIDI WENGERD, RPH, PHARM D

FACULTY ASSOCIATE/CLINICAL PHARMACY ASSOCIATE

Dr. Wengerd graduated from the University of the Sciences in Philadelphia with honors, where she received both her bachelor's and doctorate of pharmacy degrees. She worked in the Philadelphia area in clinical community pharmacy, hospice, long-term care, and as a clinical hospital pharmacist before moving to the Allentown area in December 2000. Before coming to the Lehigh Valley Hospital Family Medicine Department in October 2001, she served as the clinical pharmacist at another local hospital, where she obtained experience working with family medicine residents. Her medical interests include pain management, geriatrics, and women's health. She has served as a hospice volunteer and completed a term on the Board of Directors of the Lehigh County Conference of Churches, an organization that provides safety net social services for Lehigh County residents who need them. Heidi has three cats, and enjoys reading, playing piano, cooking, listening to classical music, gardening, and entertaining friends and family.

SUSAN D. WILEY, M.D.

VICE CHAIR DEPT OF PSYCHIATRY

Dr. Wiley graduated from the University of Pennsylvania Medical School in 1978. After completing a year of internship in Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation at Thomas Jefferson University Hospital, Dr. Wiley returned to the Penn to complete her residency in Psychiatry. Dr. Wiley's interests in coping and adaptation led her to LVHN where she led the Consultation-Liaison service for many years. Currently she is the Medical Director of Ambulatory Services in the Department of Psychiatry- Allentown Campus and Vice Chairman of the Department of Psychiatry. Her interest in Family Systems made her a good fit for the Family Medicine Residency with which she has been involved as Specialty Preceptor since the residency's inception. Dr. Wiley co-leads the Center for Mindfulness. Her professional passions are the integration of behavioral health and primary care and the applications of mindfulness into medicine. She loves fly-fishing when she is not on her farm with her husband and animals. Her children are now wonderful adults so she no longer packs their lunch box.

